Tuesday

Let's Review: Tener/ To have

- Tener is a verb that is used to say what you have.
- Tener is also used to tell age.
- It is important to understand how this verb conjugates and works in sentence formation.
- Review and copy chart down.

The present tense	Tener
I have	tengo
You have	tienes
He / She / It has	tiene
We have	tenemos
You (all) have	tenéis
They have	tienen

Wednesday

Let's Review: Conversar (Speaking)

- Speaking is a great way to enhance your language learning. Language learning has four components: reading, writing, speaking, and listening.
 - Prepare your answers and then read them out loud to an audience. Answer in complete sentences, not with single-word answers.
1. ¿Cómo se llama tu madre?
 2. ¿Cuántas hermanas tienes? ¿Cuántos hermanos?
 3. ¿Cuántos años tienes?
 4. ¿Vive tu familia en un apartamento o en una casa?
 5. ¿Tienes tú un gato o un perro?

Thursday

Let's Review: - Escribir (Writing)

1. Write a letter, containing 5 complete sentences introducing yourself in Spanish. Some guidelines:
 - Talk about your physical appearance, where you live, your nationality, and where you go to school. You can also mention brothers and / or sisters and what they are like. You can include questions to be counted as one of your 5 sentences.
 - Ejemplo/ Example: Me llamo Elisa. Soy de Atlanta, GA. Yo soy alta, inteligente, y morena. Mi hermano es bajo y cómico. ¿Cómo te llamas?
